News Review Marks Another Anniversary, Starts Forty-eighth Year of Publication

This week the Greenbelt News Review begins its forty-eighth year of continuous publication. Originally, a letter-size mimeographed publication consisting of sixteen pages, then titled the Greenbelt Cooperator, the paper began publication on November 24, 1937 — within six weeks after the first Greenbelt families had unpacked their household belongings.

History

Much is owed to the early Pioneers who recognized the immediate need for a news medium to keep people informed of local events and to provide a forum for the exchange of views. They laid down the principles that still guide the actions of the present News Review — a non-partisan non-profit, cooperative endeavor, whose aims are to print the news accurately and fairly and to reflect the Greenbelt "good neighbor" philosophy of life.

At first the paper was prepared at the homes of various staff members. In January 1938 the Federal Government (which owned Greenbelt at that time) made space available at the center, free of cost, and also loaned much-needed furniture, typewriters, and office equipment. From its original second-floor quarters in the commercial center, the paper moved its offices four times before finally coming to rest in the present basement office at 15 Parkway.

With the withdrawal of the Federal Government from town, Greenbelt Homes, Inc., through its wholly-owned subsidiary, Greenbelt Development Corporation, continued the Federal policy of providing free office space with the paper reimbursing the corporation for out-of-pocket expenses.

Free Delivery

An important development in the history of the newspaper was the decision to deliver the Cooperator free of charge to every home in town, beginning with the issue of September 7, 1939. The additional cost of local distribution was small, and this radical change of policy provided larger circulation figures, which could be used as evidence of the value of advertising in the Cooperator, once its distribution had become community wide. The town government engaged more and more space for publication of pending ordinances, budgets and the like.

The policy of free distribution remained unchanged until July 1953, when the paper was forced by financial straits to go to a subscription basis — $3 a year. The response was fairly encouraging, but the added cost of maintaining subscription records convinced the governing body that the additional income was not worth the additional workload. More important, the board wanted every resident to receive the paper. In January 1955 the paper returned to city-wide circulation.

to plague the newspaper, and appeals were made to the businesses and organizations in town for funds. Finally, in April 1959, the News Review resorted to a house-to-house community-wide drive for funds. Organized by the drive chairman, Elaine Skolnik, who was aided by 125 volunteer court collectors, the drive netted over $1,500. It proved such an unqualified success that it was renewed again the following year.

The yield from these drives was sufficient to meet the needs and no drives have been conducted since 1960; however, a fund drive was launched in 1966 by the Greenbelt Freedom of the Press Committee to help the paper defend itself against libel charges.

Libel Suit

The libel charges arose out of the paper's publication of remarks by citizens at a public city council meeting regarding a proposal made to the city by a local developer, Charles Bresler. A Prince Georges County jury found the remarks libelous and a $17,500 judgment awarded Bresler was later affirmed by the Maryland Court of Appeals. The U.S. Supreme Court, however, in May 1970, reversed and vacated the judgment, ruling that the News Review was "performing its wholly legitimate function as a community newspaper when it published full reports of these public debates in its news columns." To hold otherwise, the high court said, "would subvert the most fundamental meaning of a free press."

During the 4-year legal struggle, the Freedom of the Press Committee collected over $30,000 from the community to help meet legal expenses and to pay the judgment in case of unsuccessful appeal. ($20,000 was later returned to contributors).

Staffing

The entire staff consists of volunteer workers, most of whom have joined the paper as their contribution to their community's activities. Since March 1957, nominal payments have been authorized to the editorial staff and to columnists — when finances permit, of course. There have been 39 changes in editorship during the paper's 47 years. The position is at present held by Mary Lou Williamson and there are 42 staff members.

An innovation begun five years ago, augmenting the staff through an agreement with the Departments of English and Journalism of the University of Maryland to accept placement of student interns, is being continued to the News Review's advantage.

Interns have participated in the regular work of writing and editing copy for this paper. The program is sponsored by the Alfred M. Skolnik Memorial Fund. This fund also provides for a yearly $100 Savings Bond to be awarded to an outstanding Eleanor Roosevelt graduate interested in the field of writing.

Except for the interns, all staff members are volunteers — a fact which makes particularly notable the paper's absolute continuity since that first issue 47 years ago.

At present over 9,400 free copies of the News Review are distributed weekly to homes in Greenbelt, including Springhill Lake, Greenbriar, Glen Oaks, Windsor Green, and Hunting Ridge, and to Greenbelt office buildings and shopping centers.

Concert at Beltway Plaza

The Greenbelt Concert Band of Prince Georges County will present a free holiday concert on Sunday, December 2, at 2:30 p.m. at Beltway Plaza Mall.

This program is sponsored by the City of Greenbelt and the Maryland-National Capital Park and Planning Commission.

Craft Show Opens Festival of Lights

The Thirteenth Annual Festival of Lights, month long holiday program, will open Friday, November 30, 6-10 p.m. and Saturday, December 1, 10 a.m.-6 p.m. with the traditional Craft Show and Sale at the Greenbelt Youth Center. Handcrafted items fashioned by over 80 exhibitors, will be available for the winter holiday gift giving season. For the "little folks" as usual, the Children's Room will be open on Friday and Saturday. On Saturday, the children will have the opportunity to make unique holiday crafts as well as buy inexpensive gift items for their family and friends. The Greenbelt Boys' and Girls' Club will again be operating a concession stand during exhibition hours to benefit their youth programs.

The city's traditional Tree-Lighting ceremony will take place on Friday, November 30. The decorated evergreen, which stands between the Municipal Building and Suburban Bank symbolizes the spirit of the Festival of Lights season.

Continuing through the month of December, the Festival of Lights will offer holiday events including decorations contest, caroling, North Pole calling, Santa's visit and much more.

A complete schedule of events appears in this week's News Review.

Council Okays Two Temporary Signs On City Land for Greenwood Village

by Philip J. Hanyok

The city Council on Nov. 19, granted the builders of Greenwood Village permission to place two temporary signs on city property.

Greenwood Village, previously known as Green Holly Woods, is a Ryland Homes development at the corner of Mandan Road and Greenbelt Road, adjacent to Eleanor Roosevelt High School.

Signs are not permitted on city property by city code, but because the land slopes down from Greenbelt Road at the development's southwest corner, the developer may have to use larger less attractive signs according to City Manager James K. Giese. Council agreed that allowing the signs to be placed on city property would result in smaller and possibly more attractive signs.

Michael Ruehr, representing Ryland Homes, said, "If we could come up in front of the tree line near the sidewalk, we could use a smaller sign. The idea is to have the sign as unobtrusive as we can."

Ruehr expects the signs to stay up more than two years, depending on how fast the homes sell. The 197 homes will have a base price between $80,000 and $90,000 depending on the number of options, according to Ruehr.

Council also approved a request by the Greenwood Village developers to allow for driveway entrances to be constructed with asphalt rather than concrete.

A letter from the developer's attorney said the concrete driveways are more subject to damage during construction and asphalt has a better appearance.

Giese said the workmanship of concrete is often poor and it is more difficult to repair concrete than the asphalt. "A well built concrete driveway can last forever" he said, but a poorly built concrete driveway may last only a few years.

The city will be responsible for maintaining Mandan Terrace, which provides access to the four entrances, but will not have responsibility for the driveway entrances or their parking lots.

Council also cautioned the developers about the possible overuse of "Mandan" in naming the development's streets.

Trade Center III

Council put off approving the site plan for Maryland Trade Center III until more information can be gathered concerning timetables for road improvements. Council also wanted the

'Nutcracker' Ballet Returns

"Nutcracker," the ballet fantasy that drew over 800 to the Greenbelt Arts Center's Utopia Theater last December, returns on December 7 for five performances here.

Danced by the Central Maryland Ballet Theatre, the program combines "lots of mice, a Christmas tree that grows, inept toy soldiers and a sugar-plum fairy," says Marion Zipf, publicist for the CMBT. "It is a family oriented production."

Alexander Kodat and Heather Ray are the principals of the holiday ballet. Both studied at Peabody Institute under Thomas Hauner. The rest of the almost three-dozen cast members range in age from adult to very young, first-time dancers.

Tickets will be on sale at the crafts fair in the Youth Center Friday, November 30 and Saturday, December 1 and may be reserved by calling 441-8770. Group sales must be purchased by Monday, December 3.

city's Advisory Planning Board to take a second look at the plan and make a definite recommendation regarding a 69,000 square-foot increase in the building's size.

Russell W. Shipley, representing the developers Coakley and Williams, said the extra space would provide about $3 million in additional assessed value for the city.

Mayor Gil Weidenfeld said he wanted the APB to "look at this item once again with the most up-to-date information we have." He said the council could give the developers a decision in about a month.

"I think we are all in favor of it," said councilmember Edward Putens. But Putens wanted the APB to take a second look considering all of the developments in the Greenway Center-Maryland Trade Center area.

Crushed Stone Purchase

Council waived bidding procedures and authorized the purchase of crushed stone from Rockville Crushed Stone. According to Giese, the public works department found that Rockville Crushed Stone sells its stone for less than the low bidder awarded purchase by the county. The city is currently using stone in its curb and sidewalk work. The cost of the stone will exceed $2,500, according to Giese.

Council increased the Crime Prevention Committee's size from seven to nine members. Two people who were on a waiting list were appointed to the new positions.

Council authorized Police Chief Frank Hutson to execute the Greater Metropolitan Washington Area Police and Fire Mutual Aid Operational Plan on behalf of the city. This plan establishes a procedure for requesting assistance from other jurisdictions.

Scrap the 1dea

To the Editor:

I was very distressed to read in the News Review that the lake path is in danger of being covered with asphalt if certain petitioners have their way. As a prisoner of the asphalt jungle during my daily travels, it has always been an escape to circle the lake and relax in its natural splendor. In the mind's eye this park, which is unique to Greenbelt, could be Vermont or any other haven. Joggers flock to this trail since the dirt absorbs shock, unlike asphalt which causes serious injury to foot muscles. Run-off from asphalt has been linked to water pollution. Since the lake sits lower than the path, runoff would certainly filter into the water and in time endanger the waterlife. The proposed cost of the project alone is enough reason to scrap this whole idea which should have never been suggested in the first place.

S. Angle

Reconsider

To the Editor:

I am writing against the proposed paving of the lake road. Aside from detracting from the natural look of the lake, there are some other points worth considering:

1. The lake path is used predominantly by walkers and joggers. Walking and running on asphalt is unhealthy for the human body in that it does not "give" the way earth does. The result is slamming one's body up and down on an unmoving surface.

2. It is likely that paving the lake road will encourage a lot more bikers, making it even more difficult for walkers or joggers to make their way around the lake. We might essentially create a "biker's path."

Colette Zanin

No Pavement

To the Editor:

I, for one, go to the lake to get AWAY from pavement.

William Rich

Keep Pathway

To the Editor:

We are opposed to paving the pathway around the lake. It would detract from the natural beauty of the area and invite fast traveling bikes and possibly motorcycles, which could endanger the children and strollers along the path.

We should keep the pathway a pathway, not a racing circle.

THANKS

To the Editor:

Mary Ann Baker

Oppose Paving

To the Editor:

Let me add my voice to those who oppose paving of the lake path.

When all about us is the insanity and chaos of overdevelopment, it's important that we preserve the naturalness, peace and tranquility of the lake park.

B. Sue Benson

Flying Glass

To the Editor:

Lives shattered, dreams awry. Random violence is a fact of life in America.

A case in point is a recent incident at Greenbelt's Utopia Theater. Saturday night flying glass from a window shattered by an airgun blast whizzed inches from the face of a young actress who had just finished her performance in Grenoble Player's production, "Black Comedy." Doubtless the perpetrators of this vandalism had no knowledge their actions could have had disastrous consequences. Fortunately no one was injured by the flying glass, but the possibility of one of these flying projectiles striking a face or an eye at high velocity is indeed a frightening prospect.

We do not wish to hamper innocent fun, but do urge consideration of other people and the possible consequences of an action. In the future we would prefer you find a target more suitable than a theater window for your target practice.

Linda Martin

In Memoriam

... Dora Friedman was a person who enjoyed living. She experienced much in her 88 years—both sorrow and joy—and had a unique gift of being able to turn the kindnesses shown to her into the kindness and care she always showed others.

She was born in Lithuania in 1896 and orphaned at an early age. ... She was shown great kindness by her grandfather, who cared for her until she came to the United States to be cared for by her siblings. She would remember how "her grandfather always had time for her," ... how he would always show care and concern for her. ...

She was a very special woman ... (with) not ... a single cruel or mean bone in her body. ... She was a terrific listener—becoming not only the hostess but the mother of Mishkan Torah, her synagogue. She was always interested and always showed that she really cared.

She was married for 49 years and raised children, and enjoyed her grandchildren and great-grandchildren. She was an original resident of Greenbelt and (contributed to make it a) unique community. She and her husband, Charles, were one of the pioneer Jewish families in the area. ...

She could be found wherever a project was going on ... with the synagogue or with the Golden Age Senior Citizens. ... Her philosophy of life was felt by all those in contact with her. She would say, "It is that if I am helping others I am really helping myself!"

After 30 years of membership, Mishkan Torah did something unique in its history: It gave her a testimonial dinner for 30 years of membership, coinciding with her 80th birthday, and set up the Dora Friedman Educational Life. ... As another testimony she was nominated Greenbelt's "Mother of the Year" in 1976.

She will be missed. ... For being a survivor—an immigrant, growing up in America, a widow. For being a helper. ... For the impeccable and innate good manners, grace and dignity with which she imbued every action. ... For having a great sense of humor. ... For never showing anger. For never being judgmental with friends and relatives. For never letting anyone feel guilty and being happy with what they could achieve. ...

... In the last years (she was) making a new community of friends at the Hebrew Home. Yet she was never out of our memories. ... For she never got old. She could accept new situations and enjoy them. She knew how to be happy. She ... will be "a hard act to follow," but will always be a role model to emulate. ...

—Excerpts from tribute read at service for Dora Friedman

Greenbelters Filmed for TV Documentary on Roosevelt Era

Greenbelters may have wondered about the television crew seen filming around town recently. Next April will be the 40th anniversary of the death of President Franklin D. Roosevelt. A one-hour documentary on Roosevelt's lasting contributions as President of the United States is in the making, and Greenbelt will be a part of the story, albeit a small one of probably only six or seven minutes.

The producer-director William Neill and his associate producer, Sarah Mondale, and a camera crew of six spent all day Monday, November 12, filming here. Their twelve-hour day began at 8 a.m. at the lake, with Drake Allen on foot and Suzanne Batra in her canoe fishing, and ended at the News Review office with publisher Elaine Skolnik, staff members Barbara Likowski, Martha Kaufman and Peggy Hool and editor Mary Lou Williamson. In between were a closeup interview of Ben and Ethel Rosenzweig of the 4 court Crescent, followed by a stroll down the inner walkway to the Roosevelt Center Mall. Here the camera was set up at the barber shop with long-time resident John McGee in the barber's chair talking with his daughter and granddaughter, who have recently returned to Greenbelt to live.

Other interviews were conducted at the Tugwell Room with Librarian Betty Allen and later with Bruce Bowman, another long-time resident. The crew returned Wednesday morning for more outdoor filming of houses, walkways and Center School.

According to Neill, the underlying message of the documentary focuses on the personality and leadership qualities of President Roosevelt and the human values of the Thirties. "The concerns of 1937 and 1938," says Neill, "are the same as today"—war and the economy. Greenbelt is one of the highlights of the New Deal—the instilling of human values—a heritage passed on.

Neill and Mondale were delighted with the Greenbelt of 1984 that they discovered. "The values of the Thirties are still present today," Neill said.

The hour-long program will scan the country, stopping to look at TVA and its dams, at Hyde Park and Washington, at Dumbarton Oaks and Greenbelt. In addition film footage from all over the world will be provided by Pathe-Cinema, Paris, a descendant of Pathe News, the originator and major producer of newsreels customarily shown in the movie houses prior to the advent of television news.

Neill and Mondale hope for airtime on April 12 on PBS. Pathe-Cinema and the Kentucky Educational Television Foundation are co-producing the documentary, which will be distributed worldwide.

Location services (camera crew) were provided by John Prescott and Associates of Washington, D.C.

LAST WEEKEND FOR ONE-ACT PLAYS AT UTOPIA THEATER

Amid good reviews, the Greenbelt Players present their third and last weekend of Irish/British One Acts at the Utopia Theater, Friday and Saturday at 8:15 p.m.

The Prince Georges Herald commented that the "Players are doing some of their best work here . . . offering a glimpse of some extraordinary talent."

In "Black Comedy," the British farce, the actors' treatment "keeps the absurdity bubbling" in the play directed by Frieda Schwartz of Windsor Green. The Herald especially liked the spinster as played by Judith Holland, who shows her diverse talents by directing the first play, the Irish tragedy "Riders to the Sea."

Swim Team Holds Awards Banquet

by Betty Sonneveldt

The Greenbelt Swim Team's Annual Awards Banquet was hosted this year by the Greenbelt American Legion on Sept. 9. The Legion provided a delicious meal that everyone enjoyed. This was a real treat for the swimmers and their families.

The meal was preceded by an election of officers for the coming year. After the dinner a slide show was presented by Bob Sonneveldt, and then the awards ceremony began. This year each child on the team was awarded a trophy engraved with his/her name. Pins for improvement in times were also handed out. High point winners for boys and girls in each age group got larger trophies. For eight and under swimmers, the winners were Megan Van Wambeke, and Reed Wirick. The 9-10 group saw Allison Low and Weston Van Wambeke get the awards. The 11-12 girl winner was Emily Sonneveldt. The runner-up boy was Kevin Myers. In the 13-14 age group, Steffan Sonneveldt was the recipient and Kathy Barick was runner-up. For 15-18, Margaret Williamson was the high point runner-up for girls and Rob Reed and Brian Dies tied for the boys' runner-up award.

The team high point runners-up were Lynda Blue and James Fellows. The two swimmers who earned the most points last summer in dual meets for the Greenbelt Swim Team were Craig Dies and Tara Yanev. Two special awards were given this year. The Sportsmanship Trophy went to Alicia Derin. The coaches award went to Rob Reed. Brian Dies was recognized as a graduating senior. The Jim Wersick parent-team-spirit-award went to Jeanie Pryce Smith who became the proud owner of her own green and white pom-poms.

The Greenbelt Swim Team would like to thank their coaches, Dee Zarnowski, Gayle Drake, Sarah Lofgren and Sue Jones for an outstanding summer. The meet manager, Betty Sonneveldt, would like to say a special thanks to the runners, Jonathan Schacter, Doug Hall and Stan Arthurs. These kids worked very hard during the meets to keep things running smoothly.

Fire and Rescue Review

by Billy Rowland

The Greenbelt V.F.D. & R.S. responded to 65 fire related incidents, and 63 Rescue Squad incidents, during the first 3 weeks of November.

Malicious False Alarms

False alarms pose a very serious hazard to the public and to the firefighters that respond to help those in need. Needless energy and time is spent answering false calls, not to mention the risk to those who answer the call for help. As many as 70 fire and rescue personnel and 10 pieces of emergency equipment may respond, only to find that one person has decided to cause excitement. The risk of serious injury and even death can be just as high as in a real fire or rescue situation. So to those who report false alarms, think of this and the penalties of both fines and imprisonment. And to those citizens who are concerned, become involved and contact Police or Fire officials if you suspect or have information regarding false alarms. The Greenbelt Fire Department responded to 6 false alarms this month alone.

Fire Log

November 10: 11:25 a.m. . . . a report of fire in the new Maryland Trade Center building on Greenway Center Drive seemed confirmed to first arriving units due to "smoke showing" conditions. Upon arrival, an outdoor trash bin containing building materials was found to be on fire and was quickly extinguished.

November 16: 10:30 p.m. . . . A car reportedly got stuck in the large mulch pile on Northway extended near the ballfields. The hot exhaust pipes or catalytic converter ignited the mulch, which in turn totally destroyed the vehicle and set the surrounding area on fire. It took firefighters four hours to extinguish the stubborn blaze.

November 19: 9:41 a.m. . . . As a result of a bomb threat in the 5900 block of Greenbelt Road, both Greenbelt ambulances were placed in a "stand-by status and stationed at the Berwyn Heights firehouse until the situation was cleared, without incident, at 11:08 a.m.

November 25: A resident called the Greenbelt station to advise that she was locked out of her apartment and had left food cooking on the stove. Response was made and the situation cleared. Residents are warned not to leave food cooking unattended.

Please call 911 for any fire/rescue emergency.

Our Commitment is Still On-Line

"We're in the communications business, so we know how important it is to establish better communications with our subscribers. We're working hard to do just that."

Megan Stevens
Office Manager
Storer Cable of Prince George's County

When Storer Cable came to Prince George's County, we made clear a commitment to construct the finest cable system which state-of-the-art technology allowed. Today, six years later, our commitment is clearly still on-line.

As with any new cable system, particularly one with the complexities of our Prince George's system, there have been some problems. Occasional technical problems, beyond our control, have caused service outages at untimely moments. Some of you have had trouble reaching us, especially during service interruptions and during our monthly billing cycle.

We are making every effort to correct these problems as we simultaneously complete construction and provide service to our current subscribers. We have expanded our business hours to make it more convenient for you to reach us. Monday through Friday our telephone lines are open until 9:00 P.M. If you need to stop by our office, we have extended our hours on Thursday from 9:00 A.M. to 7:00 P.M. and Saturday from 9:00 A.M. to 1:00 P.M. We've added extra personnel and equipment to handle a greater number of phone calls. Also, we have just opened a new $15 million headquarters facility in Lanham with the equipment and technical capacity to provide better, more reliable service.

We're building an outstanding cable system for Prince George's County, primarily through the efforts of your own friends and neighbors, like Megan Stevens of New Carrollton, our Office Manager. It's a good system that's going to keep getting better, because our commitment is still on-line.

Football Lives in Greenbelt

by Jeff Keir

The 1984 season ended for the Greenbelt Boys and Girls Club 110-lb. football team Saturday afternoon, November 10, with a hard fought Raider Bowl victory over their regular season rivals, Bowie #1. The 12-6 win gave the Raider 110-lb. team an overall season record of 5-4. During the regular season the team won impressive victories over College Park (19-6), Bowie #2 (47-0), Forestville (19-7) and Kent, losing only to Bowie #1 in an evenly matched contest, 12-6, on a late TD by Bowie.

Mark Wilson (QB and middle linebacker) won "Best Defensive Back," Jack Trumbull (noseguard and offensive tackle) won "Best Defensive Lineman," Kevin Thompson (fullback and safety) won "Best Offensive Back," and Larry McKay (center and defensive end) won "Best Offensive Lineman" for the Raider Bowl

Library to Sell Calendars

People can save money during 1985 by making a purchase at their public library of a special 10½ by 11½ inch, thirteen-page hanging calendar for 1985. This contains monthly coupons redeemable for free items and substantial discounts on library service fees and purchases throughout 1985. The calendar is available at all Prince Georges County Memorial Library System branch libraries and bookmobiles while supplies last.

Those unable to visit a branch library or bookmobile can obtain copies of the calendar by sending a check or money order payable to the Prince Georges County Memorial Library System for each calendar desired to the Office of Information Services, 6532 Adelphi Road, Hyattsville, Md. 20782. For information and cost of calendar call Norman P. Jacob, Information Services, 699-3500, ext. 310.

game. An impressive performance was also turned in by John David Jimenez (running back and safety), who had a 50-plus yard run and a TD. Also giving outstanding performances were Ronnie Rowe, John Andrew Noffsinger and Grafton Plater in a true team effort. George Cline-dinst, the team's starting defensive end, had to miss playing because of a broken finger.

Tony Molden, the team's other defensive end and utility player, was a recipient of the Club's Chip Sacra Memorial Sportsmanship Award, as was Johnny McLane of the club's 75-pound football team, and Richard Cantwell of the 95-pound football team. They were presented with their awards between Raider Bowl games.

Because of the team effort put in by all the club's players and coaches in 1984, football lives in Greenbelt. The club's 1985 season begins August 1 at Braden field.

CONSIDERING A CHANGE IN RESIDENCE?

There are three key elements to consider:

- A) Your needs: things you positively have to have.
- B) Your wants: things you'd like to have, but don't necessarily need.
- C) Your qualifications:
- 1) Your initial investment (cash to move in)
 - 2) Your total income (gross yearly income)
 - 3) Your debt service (total indebtedness)

I would like the opportunity to discuss with you how we can combine these three factors to assist you and your family in achieving your housing goals both within Greenbelt and the metropolitan area - of course with no obligation.

Wednesday evening, December 5 at 7:30 p.m. is a date every member should reserve for a training session. Plan now to participate and learn how to prevent crime before it happens.

With the approach of colder weather, members are cautioned never to turn the heat off completely in the home in order to prevent freezing pipes. OF IN-HOME COLOR TV/VCR SERVICE

565-0001

I provide in-home service in this neighborhood 3 days each week as well as some evenings and weekends. I'm bonded, licensed and top rated for over 25 years. You can count on my estimates and prompt fair service. I always call before visiting, carry more than 5 times the normal inventory of parts, and can (almost) always repair your Color TV IN YOUR HOME, ON ONE TRIP. I repair HI FI'S and VCR's also. I buy broken color Zenith portables. Call with model and chassis no's. from back of set.

Thanks for reading my AD. Please save it.

STORE RESET COMPLETED

The reshuffling of the merchandise on the shelves has been completed. We thank everyone for having put up with all the inconvenience. We hope that it will be easier now to shop at our store. We think the arrangement now is more logical, and we have additional items too that we didn't realize we were missing. We have maps posted around the store showing which aisles carry which merchandise. But if you still can't find what you need, please ask any of us to help. All of us still don't know where everything is supposed to be, but we'll help you find it.
